

Queensland Blue couch

Key features:

- Fine to medium texture
- Excellent salt tolerance
- Herbicide sensitive
- Medium shade tolerance
- Frost sensitive, goes dormant through winter months

Queensland Blue Couch is used for revegetation in suitable climates. It has also been a long time and often used grass for Australian home lawns. It has a lovely soft texture, mows beautifully with a cylinder mower or rotary mower, is less aggressive than real couches, and doesn't thatch up as much as couch grass. Once mowed, it never leaves an unsightly appearance of cut and exposed stolons (runners) like other lawns may do. Does not tolerate wear like other couch grasses.

Sowing rate and maintenance

Sow at 0.5 kg/100 m<sup>2</sup>.

Maintain mowing height between 12 - 20 mm.
